

The Faculty of Economics

Bachelor's domain: Economics

General competences:

- ✓ knowledge, understanding and application of fundamental concepts, theories, principles and methods of investigation and exploration specific to the economic field
- ✓ ability to explain and interpret ideas, processes, phenomena, and trends specific to micro- and macro-economic activities, against the background of the knowledge-based society
- ✓ collecting, analyzing and interpreting quantitative and qualitative data and information regarding a specific problem
- ✓ analyzing various states of affairs, assuming responsibilities for problem-solving, communication and argumentation of work results
- ✓ ability to work independently or as part of a team to solve issues arising in specific professional contexts
- ✓ ability to use modern information technology to edit texts, process data and access databases specific for the activity of various organizational structures
- ✓ oral and written professional communication in at least one foreign language
- ✓ upon obtaining a Bachelor's degree in Economics and a graduation certificate which attests to the successful completion of the Teacher Training Module, graduates are eligible for a teaching position at pre-university level

Specific competences:

- ✓ contextual knowledge and understanding of economic thinking, doctrines and policies and the specific fundamental concepts and principles
- ✓ ability to identify the differences and to conduct quantitative and qualitative comparative analyses of fundamental theories, models and methodologies assimilated by micro- and macro-economic analysis
- ✓ ability to use theoretical knowledge and practical skills to conduct diagnostic analysis and solve specific problems at organizational or economic system level
- ✓ designing and implementing professional projects, research reports and prospective studies at micro- and macro-economic level, regarding economic policies, doctrines and communication